Smart Geese —Smarter Anyway Than Pigeons

I had trouble in "the Back 40" last week, culminating in a showdown Sunday—in which I came out second best.

My old pair of Canada Geese are making a 1972 nest, and the old gander is terrifying everything inside the fenced preserve. He attacked me, but lightly, recognizing where the free corn comes from.

But he was savage with his own offspring, charging across "the Back 40" and scattering the four adult honkers that were hatched last year. The mated pair are pinioned, but the youngsters are free to fly—and did so last week to escape their angry sire.

Lula Bell Martin, who lives at 711 S. Walnut, across the street from the preserve, caught three of them and put them back on the home grounds.

The following day we had a 'phone call from R. L. Broach reporting that a fourth honker was in his yard at 1115 S. Elm St. Gene Allen of The Star and your editor went to the scene. We had no luck trying to run the big bird into a fence, so Gene told me to take the car back to my house and he would "walk" the goose home. After a considerable wait I went over to Walnut St., figuring it was better "walking" than negotiating torn-up Main St.—and, sure enough, here came Gene with the 18-pound honker in his arms. He had met up with a fence—and had taken the goose.

And when do I come to the headline topic, "Smart Geese"? Right here, my reader. This business of chasing geese was getting old, and while Gene trimmed the feathers on one wing of his captive that still left three Canadians that could fly. So we decided to lure them into the screened walk-in quail house which is now used as a feeding station, and clip their flight feathers.

Sunday afternoon I put the plan into effect, acting alone. All six geese were in the Back 40—the old pair and the four youngsters. Ordinarily when I dump a paifull of shelled corn into the metal feeder everyone in the Back 40 comes running. But not this time.

Of course the entire flock was watching as I tied one end of a 100-foot nylon rope to the door-handle of the quail cage, dragged an aluminum chair to the other end and settled down with a pair of binoculars.

Action? Absolutely nothing. That is, practically nothing. Some pigeons came around, as they always do at feeding time, and went into the cage. Running out of patience I jerked the rope, the door slammed shut—and I had myself four pigeons, only to turn them loose.

The trap worked, but the suspects didn't co-operate. Come to think of it, you can't catch a horse by showing him a halter. And a smart goose knows something is up when a man fools around with the cage door and a long rope and a chair and binoculars.

But I haven't quit trying. I closed the door, cutting off the supply of corn, and will return to the attack today, and Tuesday if necessary. Some time those geese are going to be hungry enough to risk that roped door, they'll be clipped, and our troubles will be over for a few months until the flight feathers grow back.

Bomb Explosion in Ireland Kills Four

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A bomb exploded into a huge ball of fire in the center of Belfast today and police said four persons were killed and 97 wounded. Two of the dead were policemen.

The bomb was planted in a delivery truck parked in Donegall Street by terrorists who then telephoned false information to police, saying it had been placed in neighboring Church Street.

Authorities were evacuating people from Church Street into Donegall when the bomb exploded in a ball of fire.

Army experts estimated the size of the explosive at nearly 100 pounds. The delivery truck disintegrated. Shop fronts and windows were destroyed.

All of the city's ambulances were mobilized and rushed to the scene. Emergency operations were carried out on the sidewalk by surgeons.

The dead and wounded lay in pools of blood in the street. Other injured staggered around the street, blood pouring from their wounds, until they could be taken to an ambulance.

One policeman wept. "This seems to have been a deliberate attempt to get as many people into Donegall Street as possible," a police spokesman said.

The bomb exploded in front of Northern Ireland's main Protestant newspaper, the New Letter.

"I saw a huge ball of red fire rushing up the street followed by a pall of smoke" one witness said. "There was a huge blast and people were thrown all over the place."

3 Seek Comebacks in Illinois Vote

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is campaigning for a comeback in Illinois, while Eugene J. McCarthy and Sen. George McGovern seek votes in hopes of dealing a double blow to the Democratic presidential campaign of the demoted front-runner from Maine.

The three Democratic rivals campaigned across the state today in the windup of the third heat of the presidential primary season, with Muskie in need of big victories in a pair of contests.

He faces McCarthy Tuesday in a presidential preference vote which is not binding, and McGovern in a complex delegate selection contest which is.

The voters will be choosing 160 of Illinois' 170 delegates to the Democratic National Convention, by far the biggest crop of nominating votes at stake in early season primary contests.

At least half the delegates are expected to remain beyond the reach of either Muskie or McGovern. They will be elected from uncommitted states controlled by the Democratic organization of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The presidential rivals are not bucking the mayor in his Chicago domain. Neither entered delegates in five city congressional districts where 56 will be elected. One of the delegate candidates will be Daley himself.

McGovern is running 104 delegate candidates in 19 of the state's 24 congressional districts. Muskie's organization has endorsed 105 delegate candidates in 17 districts, although there are 161 Democrats on the ballot listed as committed to the Maine senator.

Total of Attacks on the Enemy Raised by U.S.

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes raised their total of attacks on North Vietnam this year to the 100 mark over the weekend.

The U.S. Command said the 100th attack on anti-aircraft defenses in the North was made Sunday night by a Navy A6 fighter-bomber that attacked a radar site about 35 miles north of the DMZ. The command said the radar was tracking U.S.

Rich Getting Richer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The difference between the poorest and the richest in America has nearly doubled in the past two decades, says a study prepared for Congress.

The study, by professors at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, finds that the average gap between the poorest one-fifth and wealthiest one-fifth was $10,565 in 1949 and $19,071 in 1969.

Released Sunday by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, the study says

In two other raids Sunday, American fighter-bombers apparently knocked out an anti-aircraft artillery battery and a radar site in North Vietnam 42 and 47 miles north of the DMZ near the Laotian border, the U.S. Command said.

In the ground war to the south, South Vietnamese forces pressing an 11-day drive against enemy base camps in most of the present techniques for reducing inflation simply make the poor worse off.

The poor, it concludes, "are asked to pay the price necessary to stop inflation for the rest of society."

Conditions for the poor, the study says, cannot be changed by concentrating only on education, training and the like.

It calls instead for such policies as using government wage and price structures that stimulate increases in private wages, concentrating manpower programs to improve income distribution and adopting job quotas for minorities.

State Economy Is Gaining

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Business and Economic Review published by the University of Arkansas Business College said that Arkansas' economy showed its most significant growth last year during the fourth quarter. ## Pryor Opens Headquarters

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 600 persons attended the open house for Rep. David Pryor's U.S. Senate—campaign headquarters for Pulaski County here Sunday.

Pryor and his wife, Barbara, spent the afternoon shaking hands with well-wishers.

Pryor is running for the seat now held by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Annual Kiwanis Show

The 29th Annual Kiwanis Show is scheduled for April 14th, one night only, on the stage of City Hall Auditorium at 8 p.m.

This year's show promises to be one of the better shows. The format is being changed from the Country Store setting used for the past several shows, but there will still be jokes, songs, dancing, and a skit or two that will be entertaining even if a little "corny".

The show will offer one and one half to two hours of good clean fun. The antics of some of the regulars and a new face or two added will offer a time of relaxation and enjoyment coupled with the knowledge that money derived from the show will be used for the greatest asset of any community, its youth.

The earnings of the Kiwanis Shows through the years have been used for Kiwanis youth programs and for the Golden Age Club. To date in excess of $40,000 has been used in these endeavors. Not one cent of the show funds have ever been used for Kiwanis Administration or for any purpose other than promoting work with the youth and with those who have reached the golden years.

Injunction to Prevent Construction of Local Steel Plant Is Denied

The United States District Court for the Western District of Arkansas has denied an injunction against the Tennessee Forging Steel Service, Inc., the City of Hope, Arkansas, and Charles N. Munn and William R. White.

The suit had been brought by Nucor, a Delaware Corporation, which sought to prevent the construction of a steel joist manufacturing plant at Hope by alleging that the industry and certain key officials had copied certain plans used by Nucor in erecting a similar plant at Grapeland, Texas, in 1966.

The court decision Saturday represented a clear victory for the City of Hope and the local steel plant to be known as Tex-Ark Joist Company.

United States District Judge Paul X. Williams of Ft. Smith handed down a written opinion in which the court found, among other things, "that the City of Hope, Arkansas has not violated any duty to anyone as the attorney for Nucor admits". The court also held "that there is nothing unique or special about the metal building proposed by Tennessee Forging for its Hope plant; and there are no secrets or even unusual business practices employed by Nucor that are not well known in the business and manufacturing industry." The judge held that the suit was without merit.

The court entered a judgment in the U.S. Court, Texarkana Division, dismissing the petition against the defendants, and ordered Nucor to pay the cost of the litigation.

The suit was filed by the law firms of Arnold & Arnold, Texarkana, and Bradley, Delaney & Millette, Charlotte, North Carolina, on behalf of Nucor.

Attorneys representing the defendants were James H. Pilkinton of Hope, Herschel H. Friday and Fred S. Ursery of Little Rock, and John G. Rocovich, Jr., of Roanoke, Virginia.

Charges Nixon Tamed With Justice

NEW YORK (AP) — Life magazine charges that the Nixon administration "has seriously tampered with justice in San Diego" in an effort to protect some of its most important friends there from criminal prosecutions. The administration denies the charge.

In an investigative report published Sunday, Life said it had learned that "the administration has in several instances taken steps to neutralize and frustrate its own law-enforcement officials" by delaying prosecutions, curtailing investigations and other means.

The article by Life associate editors Denny Walsh and Tom Flaherty also said that President Nixon personally chose San Diego for the site of the Republican national convention next August and that he considered it his "lucky city."

A White House spokesman denied Sunday night that Nixon has had a preference for the convention site. In an interview last July, however, White House communications director Herbert Klein said Nixon favored San Diego.

Life said its investigation, which began last July, disclosed that the administration intervened in three cases, involving C. Arnholt Smith, a long-time friend and financial ally of Nixon; Frank Curran, a former San Diego mayor, and John Alessio, a real estate investor and head of a legal bookmaking operation in Mexico.

The magazine said its probe showed that: —Harry Steward, U.S. attorney for Southern California, "squelched" an investigation of reports that illegal political contributions were being funneled through a company controlled by Smith. Steward had been appointed by Nixon on Smith's recommendation, Life said.

—When former Democratic Mayor Curran was indicted in 1970 for allegedly taking a bribe from a cab firm to help raise taxi fares, the administration refused to let a federal investigator testify for the prosecution.

—During a criminal investigation for tax evasion of Alessio, Smith went to Washington to plead Alessio's case with Nixon, Life said it learned from sources. It said that in an interview Smith denied talking to the President about Alessio.

Within days of Smith's alleged visit with the President, the administration called off its grand jury presentation and sat on the case until the statute of limitations nearly expired on a key portion.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover personally told the White House the investigation should be resumed and Alessio was later indicted, Life said.

First Day of Spring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is the first day of spring, and, for once, the astronomers and the weathermen seem to be in agreement on that point. Pleasant, springlike, weather prevailed over most of the nation as the sun slipped across the equator and started its slow climb toward summer.

Except for a band of freezing early morning temperatures from the Northeast to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and northern Minnesota, thermometer readings were mild over most of the nation.

Most of the country also reported dry weather, although a few light showers were developing in the Great Lakes region and the mountains of the Northwest and a few thunderstorms were reported in the central Great Plains.

French, British Reach an Accord on Economic Plan

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Edward Heath and French President Georges Pompidou concluded a weekend summit meeting in accord on several economic issues but disagreed about the political framework of the future European community.

The two leaders held what both sides described as fruitful talks in an excellent atmosphere at Heath's country place near London. Friction over Pompidou's sudden announcement last week of a referendum in France over enlargement of the European Common Market was reported to have been eased.

The main disagreement, aides disclosed, was over the site and role of the political secretariat planned for the European Economic Community when it is enlarged from the original six members to 10, including Britain. It was decided the question will be pursued at the meeting of all 10 countries to be held in October.

Pompidou's officials said he wanted to have the political decision-making separation from the economic bodies in Brussels. He was said to have stressed France's opposition to supranational political decision-making.

Heath contended that Brussels should be the seat of the new political secretariat and the EEC should try to coordinate the political relations of its members and maintain close links between economic and political organs.

The two statesmen were reportedly agreed — On the importance of narrowing the margins of fluctuation permitted national currencies.

— That the U.S. dollar should become fully convertible again and that gold must have a definite role in any new international monetary arrangements.

— That ratification of West Germany's treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland may be blocked, but this is an internal German matter.

Aides said Pompidou flatly opposed East-West troop cuts in Europe while Heath took the North Atlantic Treaty Organization position that negotiations can start if Moscow fulfills certain conditions. Heath was much less enthusiastic than the French leader about launching preparations soon for the all-European security conference the Russians want.

Reprocessed Oil Use

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As a contribution to efforts to preserve the environment, the Defense Department is considering the use of reprocessed lubricating oil.

The Defense Supply Agency, which buys all the petroleum products for the military forces, is studying the feasibility and economic factors involved.

The study was cited by Dr. Richard S. Wilbur, assistant secretary of defense for health and environment, to the Senate Armed Services Committee as an example of military efforts in the environmental field.

Another study under way, he said, concerns the possibility of converting the military's mammoth trash pile of "throw-away" packing containers into reusable or easily decomposable material. The department spends $2 billion a year on packaging for shipments.

As viewed by Wilbur, each year over 1.2 billion gallons of lubricating oil are drained at service stations, garages, air fields and industrial plants. The material has picked up dirt and contaminants during its use, but its basic structure and lubricating qualities are not altered or destroyed.

A large percentage of the waste oil could be used again, upon proper removal of the contaminants and blending with other materials, if there were suitable markets for the recycled products.

The Defense Supply Agency study will determine the feasibility of providing such a market in the Federal Supply System.

Israel Building Navy

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Israeli navy is building a force of big missile-firing boats in an apparent bid to overcome an Egyptian edge in the Red Sea, Pentagon sources report.

The move, raising the Mideast arms race another beat, would enable the Israeli navy to shield shipping bound for Elat, Israel's important southern port.

In the view of U.S. naval experts, the six boats under construction would put the Israelis in shape to challenge the Egyptian navy's Red Sea force, made up principally of two destroyers and three Soviet-built Komar-class missile boats.

At the moment, Israel has about a dozen lightly armed patrol craft in the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Although they maintain powerful naval forces in the Mediterranean, neither the United States nor Russia is in position to bring that major strength to bear in the Red Sea because the Suez Canal still is blocked.

The United States keeps only a small force of two destroyers and a command ship in the Red Sea area. Russia operates about 16 naval vessels in the vast Indian Ocean, and some of these could be sent into the Red Sea in an emergency.

Construction of the six new missile boats is another example of the way Israeli engineers modify foreign weapons to fit their own needs.

The new boats will be more heavily armed than the earlier Saars, U.S. sources said, with 76mm guns mounted on boats on bow and stern to complement Israeli-made Gabriel missiles, torpedos and smaller guns.

The Israelis have provided few details about the Gabriel, but it is known by U.S. experts to be a radar-aimed weapon of what is called a "sea skimmer" type. The missile is described as carrying a hefty explosive warhead.

Belly Not Ideal Now

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — "Food makes a belly and a belly makes esteem," says a German proverb.

But obesity is no longer a Teutonic ideal. West Germans are being exhorted to "redefine" through sports in a national physical fitness drive that has produced more converts than any other postwar motivational campaign.

The program—Trimm Dich Durch Sport—started two years ago to encourage people of all ages to get up from their desks and easy chairs and start moving their bodies.

says Karl Reimer of the German Sports Federation, initiator of the fitness campaign.

Trimm Dich uses humor rather than threats to convince Germans that sports lead to pleasure as well as good health," adds Reimer, a 43-year-old man of 43.

More than half of West Germany's labor force is forced to sit jobs for health reasons 10 years before the normal retirement age 65. And physicians blame a quarter of a million heart attacks each year and countless circulatory ailments on the reluctance of West Germans to exercise.

Trimm Dich, however, appears to have started a trend toward voluntary weight watching and exercising, especially among middle class Germans. Pilot programs are under way in factories and offices to test the concept of 10-minute exercise pauses during the working day.

Turks Want Money for Opium Farmers

By NICK LUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Nihat Erim is visiting the United States this week in search of money to compensate Turkish opium farmers for the government's ban on their poppy growing.

The ban affects more than 100,000 farmers in seven provinces and as many more persons in related industries. It touches the lives of a million Turks.

The United States has offered $35 million over four years to help compensate and develop new income for the opium farmers. Most Turks think this is not enough. Their loss estimates start at $40 million and run as high as $400 million for the first four years.

One of the premier's Washington meetings will be on Wednesday with Robert S. McNamara, president of the World Bank. They are expected to discuss projects to provide new income for the opium-growing area.

The ban has generated angry protests in the press and Parliament, with critics charging that Erim has sold out to foreign interests.

But he has stood firm. He says the decision was taken to protect world youth from the "damned plague" of drug abuse and to keep Turkey's honor from being smeared. He has warned, however, that if the economic loss cannot be made up, some future government may rescind the ban.

U.S. officials have assured Erim that President Nixon will use his influence with the World Bank and other international aid and lending agencies to secure financing for opium-substitution projects.

Order to Admit Press to Hearing Is Voided

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that a Chancery Court order prohibiting the State Police Commission from barring the public and press from a hearing on a dismissal was invalid.

The court ruled 6-1 that Chancellor Kay L. Matthews lacked the jurisdiction needed to uphold the order he issued at the request of B.G. Davidson.

Davidson, a member of the state police for about 11 years, was fired July 22, 1971, for allegedly violating a section of the agency manual by accepting fees.

The ex-officer requested a hearing and was notified on July 30, 1971, that a hearing would be held on Aug. 19, 1971.

Asserting that such hearings in the past had been closed to press and public, Davidson asked Matthews on the day before the scheduled hearing to prohibit the commission from closing any hearing it might hold on the matter.

Davidson contended that the dismissal was politically motivated by Col. William C. Miller, director of the Police Services Division, and Harold W. Brueggeman, head of the Department of Public Safety.

Without an open hearing, Davidson said, he would be "without means to have his case fairly adjudicated" so that the public would be "permitted to...form its own impressions and evaluations of the procedures and deliberations" of the commission.

The commission contended that Davidson's court action was, in effect, a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the commission to hold a particular type of hearing. The Supreme Court agreed.

Chief Justice Carleton Harris said in the majority opinion that since a writ of mandamus actually was the relief sought by Davidson, the action in the Chancery Court should have been transferred to the Circuit Court, which has authority to issue such an order.

Housing Conference

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 1,000 inner city residents at the National Housing Conference condemned the Federal Housing Administration Sunday as being "chiefly responsible for the resegregation of our cities."

The delegates, ending their two-day meeting, agreed to a resolution stating that "real estate operators use the FHA to segregate our communities by steering blacks, Latin Americans, and other minority groups into fringe communities. This forces minorities and low-income families to buy only in certain areas, which in turn puts pressure on these areas to change."

The FHA provides low cost housing loans to qualified citizens.

The delegates representing black, Latin American and white ethnic groups in 39 states, sent to their national steering committee a resolution calling for George Romney, secretary of housing and urban development; George Vavoulis, Midwest director of HUD, and John Warner, Chicago director of HUD, "to be immediately fired."

The proposal charged that the three men are guilty of "incompetence in responding to the pressure of speculators and money lenders and not to the people in our dying cities."

The conference is to reconvene April 29-30 in Baltimore.

The delegates also voted to continue the conference's work through a national steering committee, whose 370 members will include representatives of each of the 72 delegations which were at the Chicago meeting.

Shower For Bride-elect
Miss Mary Beth Levins, bride-elect of Joe William Walker of Spring Hill, Tenn., was honored with a miscellaneous shower on March 16 in the home of Mrs. M. H. Peebles. The guest of honor was attired in navy and white knit and had a white daisy corsage. Similar flowers were presented to her mother, Mrs. Rob Levins.

Much good humor resulted from Susan Stephens' gift of a book, "The Care and Feeding of Husbands." Besides advice, the book also contained food recipes of friends at the party. Many lovely and useful gifts were also presented to the bride-elect, and as she opened the packages, Carol Anthony recorded the items while Debby Bryant strung the bows of ribbon.

A white lace cloth over a green background was on the serving table, and a pretty arrangement of spring flowers was used for the centerpiece. Frosted lime punch and petits fours were served to 60 guests.

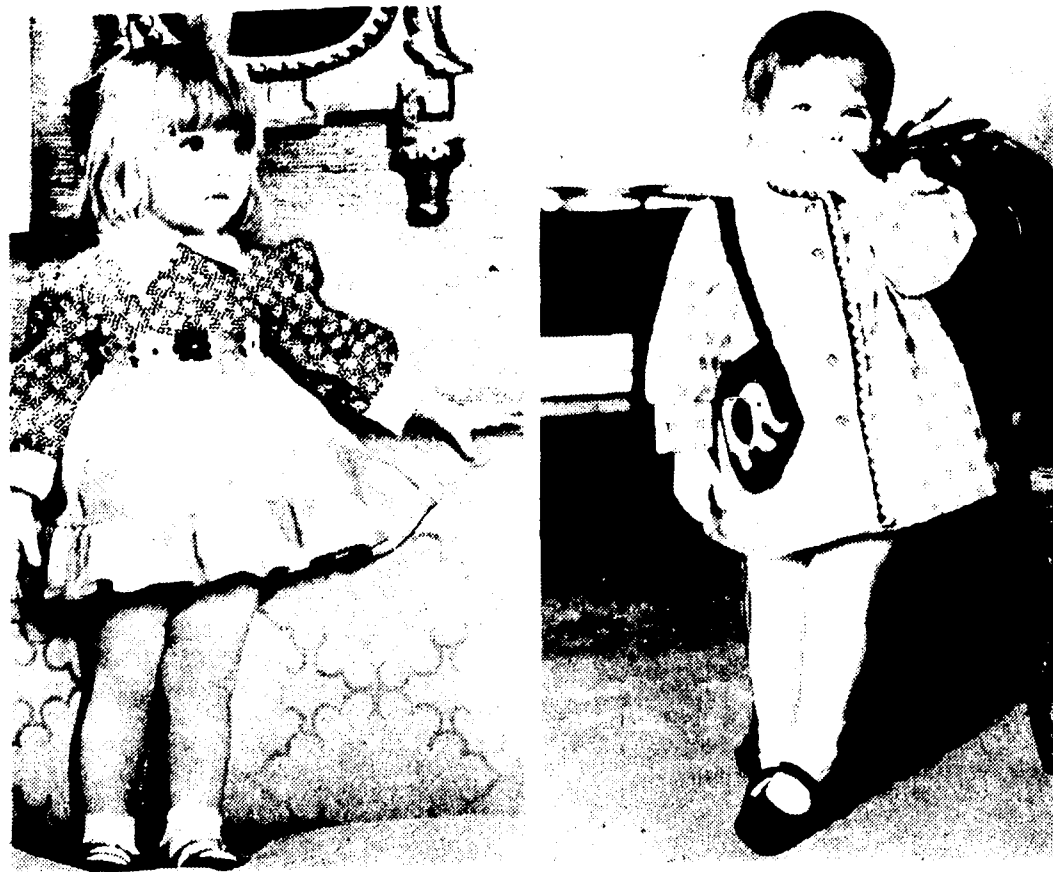

Besides Mrs. Peebles, other hostesses were Mesdames: Leland Warmack, Harold Hendrix, Helen Hatch, Lahroy Spates, A. J. Rhodes, J. A. Collier, Loma Rowland, Jeff Millican, Carl Greenlee, Dewey Baber, Eugene Cox, Lynton Crank, Harley Sisson, and Wilson Stevens.

Crater of Diamonds Has an Interesting History

The Crater of Diamonds near Murfreesboro, today became Arkansas' newest, and America's most unique, state park according to William E. Henderson, Director of the Department of Parks and Tourism.

The Crater of Diamonds State Park became a reality when the department purchased slightly over 867 acres, including the 78-acre volcanic pipe from G.F. Industries of Dallas. The Crater is the only known occurrence of diamonds in their natural matrix in North America. The purchase price to the state was $750,000. An independent appraiser recently valued the property at $800,000.

Negotiations for the property have been underway for several months when it was first learned that the property might be available. The State's Attorney General has handled the legal problems during the negotiations and purchase.

Diamonds were first discovered in the Prairie Creek area of Pike County in August of 1906, by a farmer named John Wesley Huddleston. When the real value of his discovery became public, it started a "diamond rush" to Murfreesboro that threatened to take on the proportions of California's Gold Rush. Prospectors searched many areas in the southwest part of the state but it is only in the Murfreesboro vicinity that the peridotite-diamond bearing ore has been discovered.

Over 60,000 diamonds have been taken from the Crater to date. While most of the diamonds found are small, averaging 50 to the carat, it is estimated that approximately eight percent of the stones are of gem quality. Two of the most famous diamonds found on the site are the "Uncle Sam" and the "Star of Arkansas".

The "Uncle Sam", found in 1924, weighed 40.23 carats. The gem, declared by experts as being of superior brilliancy and hardness, was fashioned by a New York diamond-cutting firm into a 14.42 carat emerald cut and is considered almost priceless. The "Uncle Sam" Diamond is now owned by a Fifth Avenue jeweler.

The "Star of Arkansas", found in 1956 by a Dallas housewife, weighed 15.31 carats in the rough and was cut into a 8.27 carat marquise. The Dallas woman still owns the stone, with a present value of $100,000.

Other large stones, ranging in weight from four carats to more than 30 carats, have been found at the Crater. The "Star of Murfreesboro", found in 1964, weighed 34.25 carats, and the "Chief of Carlisle", a 13.50 carat stone, was found in 1966.

There have been many attempts to mine the Crater commercially, but all attempts have been shrouded in mystery and bedeviled by abuse. Problems of multi-ownership, crippling lawsuits, lack of funds, and even rumors of international collusion, closed down every attempt to mine the property.

Prominent personalities such as Henry Ford, Glenn Martin, a Rockefeller and several Texas millionaires, have been interested or owned stock in the futile attempts to mine the diamonds.

In 1952, Howard A. Miller, son of one of the previous mine operators, opened the Crater as a tourist attraction. Anyone willing to pay a nominal admission fee could have any diamonds they found up to five carats. During the Miller operation there was a twenty-five percent fee charged on the uncut value of any stone found over five carats.

It was during this period, in March of 1965, that Mrs. A.L. Parker of Dallas, picked up a perfect blue-white stone of 15.31 carats. She named it "The Star of Arkansas" and was the first large diamond found by a tourist.

General Earth Minerals Corporation, subsidiary of G.F. Industries, bought the property in February, 1969, for $1,100,000, with the intent of exploring the possibilities of commercial mining. Very little was done to the property, though, and it continued to operate as a tourist attraction.

An average of 200 diamonds a year are being found by visitors and, as recent as two weeks ago, a tourist from Missouri picked up a stone weighing in excess of six carats.

Henderson stated that the department will take possession of the property immediately. $100,000 of the purchase price was placed in escrow until such time as G.F. Industries and its Operating Receiver can provide to the department a release of any lien of judgement claims against the property.

The Crater will remain open to the public under state parks supervision, although the gift shop and restaurant will close for a few days for inventory during the transition period. Lloyd E. Sures, State Parks Director, said that all existing facilities will be in full operation by the first of next week. He said that there will continue to be a $2.00 admission fee to search in the Crater and that all diamonds

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The networks appear to have started spring housecleaning. NBC and CBS used up five pilot programs Friday night by dropping them in time periods normally used for feature films. The rest of the entertainment was almost entirely reruns.

NBC had hour-long programs called "Ghost Story" and "Movin' On", in its usual theatrical movie spot. CBS packed three comedy pilots in its movie-made-for-TV time.

"Ghost Story" was a story of a young couple moving into their new house. The wife, about to have a child, started hearing footsteps and bursts of wild laughter in empty rooms. It turned out to be the spirit of a girl hanged and buried 200 years before on the site of their home.

"Movin' On" was a straight action story about a stock car driver and a cyclist who follow the racing circuit. It bore a family resemblance to "Route 66," and no wonder since both were created by the same man, Stirling Silliphant.

CBS's trio of pilots started strong but wound up weak. "The Living End" explored the anguish of a football veteran worried about younger competition for his position on the team when he was sidelined by exposure to his wife's measles.

"Oh, Nurse," was a switch on those old movies about hijinks in the girls' dormitory at the coed college. They were trying to smuggle into their guarded quarters an medical intern to join his bride of a few hours. Naturally, he wound up hiding in the girls' shower.

Helen Help Us!

Salad Days? She's His Dish
Dear Helen:
I have been married for one year and am still learning. This week's lesson: when wives turn green they aren't always sick.

I walked into the bathroom yesterday. My wife said, "You should knock first." After I saw her, I agreed. There she stood, nude, reading a book, and a sickly shade of green—all over.

She said, "I'll be 'done' in half an hour. How come you're home early?"

Yup...Another one of her experiments. This time she'd whipped overripe avocados and bananas into a lather, smeared the junk on thick—and after it "ripened" for an hour, she'd take a shower. The book said, "Use on dry skin areas that need revitalizing," and Lucy figured she'd go for broke.

All she needed was a lettuce leaf to pass for a salad.

I mixed myself a strong drink.

Do other wives try these crazy things? Lucy puts a kind of Caesar salad dressing (eggs, lemon juice, etc.) on her face—which dries and cracks. She even does something nutty with tomatoes.—PREFER MY FOOD ON THE TABLE.

DEAR PMFOFF:

Other wives?...Only those who read do-it-yourself natural beauty aid books. (Wait till you see Lucy in an oatmeal mask!)

But don't knock 'em. Kitchen face-and-body-boosters are usually cheaper than "hope in a jar." (And be glad your little "dish" isn't a FROZEN salad!)—H.

DEAR HELEN:

You'll undoubtedly receive a truckload of mail from up tight females in regard to the letter praising call girls.

Here's one female who approves of the oldest profession and thinks it should be legalized everywhere, not just in Nevada.

As long as parents teach their sons (and daughters) that there are "good girls" and "bad girls," we will be plagued with grown men who have the sexual hang-ups of 13-year-olds. If, for a price, a girl will give them what they think they need, more power to her—she shouldn't be ostracized or shunned. Perhaps legal prostitution would cut down on office Don Juans and other types of molesters. Besides, regulation cuts down VD, and crime, and "legits" pay taxes.

Incidentally, I'm not speaking as a member of the team. I'm 27, the happily married mother of two—whose husband is not a potential customer.—KAREN Dear Helen:

It may be "the oldest profession," but why legalize something that is on its way out? With the sex revolution has come man's realization that he doesn't need to pay for what he can get free!

...And with women getting more aggressive and demanding all the time, possibly the big wave of the future will be toward gigolos.—OBSERVER

DEAR READERS:

For a guy who was only poking satirical fun at the Establishment, good ol' "Support Your Local Call Girl" Porter certainly stirred up a hornet's nest!

Strangely enough, more than half the women who answered him favored legalized prostitution, while men were about 50 per cent against.—H.

Jacklin Wins Playoff

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "I had a lot of things to prove to a lot of people—including Tony Jacklin."

Jacklin was discussing his playoff victory over Johnny Jacobs Sunday for the $25,000 first prize in the Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

"There was a lot on my shoulders," the handsome young Englishman said.

"Even though you've won two major championships, people forget in a hurry."

"So this one is extra nice. I'm very, very happy—very gratified."

Jacklin, winner of the 1969 British and the 1970 United States Open Championships, had suffered through a poor 1971 season before climaxing his comeback with a decision over Jacobs on the first extra hole at the Hidden Hills Country Club Course.

Tony scored a par four while Jacobs, a former combat infantryman in Vietnam, made a bogey after pushing his drive deep into the woods and hitting a treetop with his second shot.

"I just choked," said Jacobs, who won only $6,181 last year before getting hit with a six-month suspension that has just been lifted. He ran afoul of a Tournament Players Division regulation concerning financial responsibility.

Jacklin, who placed 102nd on the money list last year after winning $19,977 caught the front-running Jacobs with a birdie on the long par five 17th hole.

He finished with a four-under-par 68 for 283. Jacobs matched that 72 hole total with a final round 70.

Australian veteran Bruce Crampton closed with two birdies and gained a share of third place with Rod Funseth. They were tied at 284, after Crampton had a 70 and Funseth 71.

Bob Murphy rallied for a 72 and was alone at 285.

The only other players under par 288 were John Schlee, 286, and Jerry Heard and Arnold Palmer, tied at 287. Lee Trevino took a final 72 for 288 and defending champion Gary Player was at 291 after a 73.

A-State Takes Doubleheader

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State swept a doubleheader from the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle 7-1 and 3-2 Saturday.

Amazing Nets Are Just That

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Amazin' Nets! Sound familiar?

The Nets continued their run at second-place Virginia Sunday night with a 121-117 victory over Indiana. It was their seventh triumph in a row and left them only 1½ games behind the idle Squires in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Elsewhere, Carolina dealt record-breaking Kentucky its second straight setback 121-113 and Utah beat Denver for the eighth time in 10 meetings 125-113.

John Roche scored 15 of his 21 points in the final period to spark a Nets rally against Indiana. Bill Melchionni led the winnersbalanced attack with 23 points while Bill Keller had 28 for the Pacers.

Carolina got 23 points each from Larry Miller, Wendell Ladner and Stew Johnson to defeat Kentucky for the first time in 11 games this season. Miller set a league scoring mark with 67 points against Memphis on Saturday night.

Artis Gilmore had 31 and Dan Issel 28 for the Colonels, who have won 61 games, an ABA record.

Jimmy Jones led Utah past Denver with 25 points and Zelmo Beaty added 18.

Princeton, Niagara Post NIT Wins

NEW YORK (AP) — Brian Taylor isn't the only guard at Princeton. There's another guy back there, although he gets little notice.

"He's terrific," says Princeton basketball Coach Pete Carril, speaking of Ted Manakas.

He certainly was Sunday when he led the Tigers to a 68-60 victory over Indiana in the National Invitation Tournament.

Manakas grabbed the play away from the usually brilliant Taylor, scoring 20 points and literally taking the game in hand with stalling tactics near the end.

The victory in the nationally televised contest moved Princeton into a Tuesday night quarter-final date with Niagara, a 76-57 winner over Texas-El Paso in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader.

The quarter-finals begin tonight at Madison Square Garden with a doubleheader matching Jacksonville against Lafayette in the first game and Syracuse against Maryland in the second. Oral Roberts faces St. John's N.Y. in Tuesday's other game.

Manakas' 20 points was high for the winners. Joby Wright, Indiana's fine forward, delivered 21 points.

In the second game, turnovers bedeviled both teams, but the big difference was the lack of scoring punch from Scott English, Texas-El Paso's point-leader.

English scored only five points, 12 below his average. "We were just terrible," admitted Miners' Coach Don Haskins.

Jacksonville is in tonight's second round by virtue of a 94-75 thumping of Fordham Friday night in the opening game of this 35th annual tourney. Lafayette surprised Virginia 72-71.

Syracuse survived the first round with an 81-77 victory over Davidson and Maryland whipped St. Joseph's, Pa., 67-55 on Saturday. Also on Saturday Oral Roberts walloped Memphis State 94-74 and St. John's, N.Y. edged Missouri 82-81 in overtime.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Maribel Blum's Hold Your Peace, winner of Hialeah's Flamingo Stakes, heads a record 56 three year olds nominated for the $100,000 Arkansas Derby April 1 at Oaklawn Park.

"The nominees are very impressive and this group could very well contain the top colt in the nation," said Allan W. "Doc" Lavin, Oaklawn racing secretary.

The race will be the first $100,000 attraction for Arkansas. The derby has offered $50,000-added since 1965.

Lakers Set a Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Routed? Whipped? Stomped? Thumped?

How do you describe the worst defeat in National Basketball Association history? That's what the Golden State Warriors are asking.

The Los Angeles Lakers had everything going Sunday night and routed (whipped, stomped, thumped) the Warriors 162-99. The Lakers had seven players in double figures to break the 62-point difference total set in 1960 by the old Syracuse Nationals against the New York Knicks.

"Just a perfect game," Lakers' Coach Bill Sharman said. "It's what we've been looking for all year—quick movement, great shooting, solid defense."

Nate Archibald scored 45 points in Cincinnati's 135-105 victory over Buffalo. The 6-foot guard from Texas-El Paso is the third highest scorer in the league, and previously had games this season of 46 points and twice 35 points.

The Royals had a nine-point advantage going into the fourth quarter but erupted for 47 points for their largest score of the season.

In other NBA games, Chicago beat Detroit 115-107, Philadelphia topped Seattle 115-100, Atlanta downed Cleveland 115-106, Baltimore defeated Boston 125-112.

Bob Love hit 33 points and Chet Walker 27 for Chicago, which needed a rally in the final 2½ minutes to beat Detroit in a game tied 18 times.

Curt Flood Suit Against Baseball in U.S. Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today took up Curt Flood's suit against organized baseball.

Former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, in arguments prepared for a one-hour hearing, contended that the contract that binds a player to one team directly violates antitrust laws.

Goldberg, representing the former St. Louis Cardinal centerfielder, urged the court to reverse a 1922 decision that exempted baseball from laws regulating interstate commerce. He said the ruling was an anachronism.

But Paul A. Porter, a Washington attorney, and Louis L. Haynes Jr., a New York lawyer, cautioned that the reserve system is the cornerstone of baseball.

Without it, they said, the wealthiest teams in the largest cities would attract the best players, destroying baseball's competitive balance.

Backed by the players' union, Flood brought his damage suit against baseball after the Cardinals traded him to the Philadelphia Phillies in 1969. He wanted to be made a "free agent," at liberty to play for a team of his choosing.

At the very least, Goldberg said, baseball should give players the limited freedom of action provided in football, basketball, hockey and other sports.

In his brief Goldberg argued baseball "is big business" and ought to be treated as such.

"The Sherman Act has long prohibited businessmen from entering into concerted agreements to eliminate competition among themselves in the procurement of commodities essential to their businesses. And businessmen are plainly prohibited by the act from utilizing concerted refusals to deal, or group boycotts. "There is little question but that organized baseball's reserve system falls squarely within these per se proscriptions."

Porter and Haynes said Flood's complaint is fundamentally a labor-management dispute and any change should be worked out by the ballplayers' union and the club-owners.

"There is a blend of competition and partnership among the clubs in baseball which would be both unnecessary and improper in the normal business world."

A final decision by the justices is expected before the end of June.

Louisville Anxious for Crack at UCLA

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Denny Crum left an assistant's post at UCLA last year to become head basketball coach at Louisville. He returns to Los Angeles Thursday ... in style.

Crum's Cardinals, winners of the NCAA Midwest Regional, will play the Bruins, winners of the Far West, in an NCAA Tournament semifinal. Crum will be coaching against his boss of three years, John Wooden.

When Crum left UCLA, Wooden said, "I consider Denny a top head coaching prospect," but the Bruins' mentor said last week, "He's coaching Louisville and I'm coaching UCLA. We don't play Coach Crum, we play Louisville."

In the regional championship games Saturday, Louisville defeated Kansas State 72-65 in the Midwest, UCLA topped Long Beach State 73-57 in the West, North Carolina routed Penn in the East 73-59, and Florida State downed Kentucky 73-54 in the Midwest.

Florida State plays North Carolina in the other national semifinal at Los Angeles Thursday.

"I can't wait to get back to Los Angeles for the Nationals," Crum said after his team's victory.

Sill, the Louisville coach, who helped UCLA to three of its five straight national titles with his recruiting prowess, isn't kidding himself about playing the Bruins, a team which is 28-0 this season and with a 42-game winning streak.

"I'm sure there won't be any secret about what both of us do," he said. "We have scouted them and I know quite a bit about the Bruins, but I'm not sure my knowing will make a lot of difference."

Jim Price, the tournament's most valuable player, led the Cardinals Saturday with 25 points.

Last season the Bruins defeated Long Beach 57-55 in the regional game. They didn't have that trouble Saturday as Henry Bibby scored 23 points and 6-foot-11 Bill Walton hit 19.

Florida State ruined Adolph Rupp's chance to take Kentucky to the national semifinals as Ron King scored 22 points for the Seminoles. Florida State held the Wildcats without a basket for almost eight minutes of the second half.

Rupp, 70, faces mandatory retirement after a record 879 victories in 42 seasons.

In the regional consolation games, South Carolina defeated Villanova 90-78 in the East, Minnesota topped Marquette 77-72 in the Midwest, Southwestern Louisiana routed Texas 100-70 in the Midwest and San Francisco downed Weber State 74-64 in the Far West.

Ex-Cards Stacked in Favor of Phillies

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cards—or, rather, the ex-Cards—were stacked Sunday in favor of the Philadelphia Phillies.

And when the Phils were through playing with their loaded deck, they had trounced St. Louis 7-1 in an exhibition baseball game on the strength of three aces—former Cardinals Steve Carlton, Willie Montanez and Tim McCarver.

Carlton, traded from St. Louis to Philadelphia last month, denied he was fired up at facing his ex-mates for the first time, but he hurled six innings, allowing one run.

Montanez, one of two players the Phillies acquired from St. Louis two years ago as compensation for Curt Flood's failure to report, lashed out two doubles and a single, driving in four runs. McCarver, acquired in the Flood-Richie Allen deal, doubled home Philadelphia's first run and added two singles.

Elsewhere, the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates swept a three-game series from the Cincinnati Reds in Venezuela, winning Sunday 8-1 after two shut-outs. Bob Johnson hurled 5 1-3 perfect innings, Bob Robertson drove in four runs with two hits, a sacrifice fly and Richie Zisk homered.

The Los Angeles Dodgers rapped out 14 hits and Willie Crawford and Bill Buckner combined for five RBIs in an 8-5 triumph over the Houston Astros.

Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer off Gary Gentry helped the Atlanta Braves beat the New York Mets 3-1 and Sam McDowell pitched six strong innings and smacked a two-run double as the San Francisco Giants edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

The Minnesota Twins scored an unearned run in the ninth inning on Doug Griffin's throwing error and nipped the Boston Red Sox 5-4 and Jim Panther, acquired in the Denny McLain trade, pitched three scoreless innings in the Texas Rangers' 8-6 conquest of the Kansas City Royals.

India, Bangladesh in 25-Year Defense Pact

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi presented the new 25-year defense and friendship treaty between India and Bangladesh to Parliament today and said it embodies their will to "pursue common policies ... in quest of peace, good neighborliness and the well-being of our two peoples."

The pact, signed Sunday at the end of Mrs. Gandhi's two-day visit to Dacca, provides that if either India or Bangladesh is attacked the two governments will consult to "take appropriate, effective measures to eliminate the threat." It is similar to the treaty India signed seven months ago with the Soviet Union.

The two nations agreed not to join any military alliance directed against the other and that neither would permit the use of its territory to threaten the security of the other.

Mrs. Gandhi and Prime Minister Mujibur Rahman of Bangladesh also signed a joint declaration which she said emphasized "the importance of close coordination and cooperation between the two countries in trade and payments, economic development and transit."

The Indian prime minister said on her return Sunday there were prospects of peace talks with Pakistan but she gave no indication she was in any hurry to get them started.

Another part of the joint declaration pledges Indian cooperation in trying "those guilty persons ... responsible for the

DR. LESTER SITZES

Dr. Lester Sitzes had a vocational program at the Hope Rotary Club meeting on Friday, March 17, at the Town and Country, when he spoke on "Where Dentistry is Today." He explained that most dental disease is preventable and stressed the importance of dental hygiene. "The enamel on a person's teeth is formed during the first 10 years of his life, which makes this the most important time for care of the teeth," he said. "However," he added, "one should never cease to take good care of his teeth."

The air drill, "laughing gas," new and better types of material for fillings and other modern innovations in the practice of dentistry were used in the discussion. "There is an opportunity for young people in several branches of this field—dentists, lab technicians, dental hygienists," he said.

In a brief question and answer period, facts and fictional beliefs about teeth were either confirmed or disproved. The club president, Dr. Sam Strong, had no business matters to discuss but he welcomed the members in attendance.

Will Reconsider Confessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to reconsider the "hypertechnical requirements" of the 1966 Miranda decision limiting use of confessions at criminal trials.

The court acted at the request of Philadelphia prosecutors who asked for re-examination in light of the 1968 Federal Crime Control law, which eased rules against confessions for federal trials.

The case, to be heard next term, concerns a Philadelphia man, Paul D. Ware, who confessed in 1963 to the slaying of four elderly people. The Miranda ruling barred use of the statement by the time he was ready for trial.

There was no elaboration from the court as it announced it would hear the appeal. Therefore, the extent to which the Miranda decision will be re-evaluated will not be completely clear until the case is argued.

Lincoln High Plans FHA Week Activities

March 19 through 25, 1972, has been designated National FHA Week. Members of Future Homemakers of America will carry out special activities and observances designed to share their experiences and achievements with family, friends, and neighbors.

The theme chosen for this year's National FHA Week is "Profiles of Youth" to focus attention on what over half-a-million young men and women are doing to improve personal, family, and community living.

Gwendolyn Scott, chapter president, points out that several million young people have been challenged by the unlimited opportunities offered through membership in Future Homemakers of America over the 26 years since its establishment as a national organization for home economics students in the secondary schools.

"They have an opportunity to grow as an individual," she stated, "to contribute to home and family living, develop leadership and cooperation, open doors of service to others, prepare for a vocation or profession, make new friends, find new experiences, gain an understanding of others, make creative and constructive use of leisure time and most importantly, be a part of a national organization of teenagers concerned with people, families, and communities."

The 47 members of the Lincoln FHA Chapters have scheduled a number of activities for this week. Plans outlined by Gwendolyn Scott and Mrs. G.B.W. Golston include benefit drive for Little Carolyn Jordan who is a patient in University Hospital Little Rock.

Golden Lamp of Life

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the golden lamp of life. Its bright beams, reflected from the safe and changeless land of yesterday, light our steps along the troubled pathway of today and give us courage to dare the dangers of farther walks tomorrow.

You have a great store of recollections if you can remember when—

The average man saw no need for a two-bathroom house, a two-car garage—or a two-marriage life.

The only people who could afford to keep bankers' hours were bankers.

Folks put more faith in opportunity than in security.

You walked more often in mud in America than you did on concrete.

If you wanted something you hadn't inherited, you had to work for it to get it. No one expected the government to give it to him.

A doctor was so busy making house calls that he often found it difficult to keep regular office hours.

You met more eccentrics then than now because people had the strength and independence to be themselves instead of acting like each other.

It wasn't unusual for a baby to be born in the same bed that its great-grandfather had died in.

Anyone who had just one loaf of bread under his arm, not two, felt he had no justifiable reason to complain about life.

You could look at a boy and a girl walking arm in arm together and feel pretty sure which was which.

There was no place in town where you could buy a bottle of aspirin tablets except the drug store.

The biggest thrill in a little boy's life was getting ice skates with modern steel rather than wooden runners.

A nickel cup of coffee had just as much coffee in it as a 15-cent cup has today.

A young girl could take her grandmother to a movie without worrying whether the scenes or the language in it would offend the old girl.

The old people who had to end their days in an old folks' home were those who had no children.

Most families bought their groceries on credit during the week, and Father went to the store on Saturday night and paid the bill in full—with cash.

If a light was seen in your house after midnight, the neighbors would call up and ask if anyone was sick.

Treatment for Addicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heroin addicts are sick and should be given medical treatment instead of punished, according to a special study on big-city crime done by an American Bar Association committee.

The committee, headed by Washington lawyer Edward Bennett Williams, proposes an experiment using heroin itself as a last resort to lure addicts to newly established clinics for treatment.

But, the report stressed, heroin should not be administered as a medical tool until it can be proven to pose no danger in such treatment.

The study released Saturday and entitled "New Perspectives on Urban Crime," will be presented to the bar association's meeting in San Francisco in August.

It cited a 9 per cent rise in city crime in the first nine months of 1971, with the root causes of violent crime being substandard housing, racism, heroin addiction, inadequate public services, inferior schools and poverty.

It estimated there are 560,000 heroin addicts in the nation who commit 33 to 50 per cent of the holdups, burglaries, muggings and thefts in the major urban centers.

Surgery May Be Risky

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am a man 80 years of age and have hardening of the arteries in my neck. This is causing dizzy and fainting spells. My doctor is giving me circulation medicine, but he said this will not give me much relief and the only thing that may cure me is an operation, cutting this artery and cleaning it or placing a tube in the artery.

He said at my age this operation had a 50-50 chance of being fatal. Without any operation I could have a stroke. Is there any medicine that will remove this cholesterol block from my artery without an operation?

Dear Reader — I wish it were possible to give people like you a medicine that would dissolve the blockage in their arteries, but it isn't. This is a good example of why prevention is so much better than the cure. The problem is that sometimes neither works.

Your doctor has been very honest with you and hasn't given you any false hopes about the operation. There are two operations used for these problems. In one procedure the blockage is bored out. In the other a tube graft is connected above and below the blockage to act as a detour around the block for blood flow. The latter method usually is less risky. After the first method a stroke often occurs after surgery, but some do benefit from the operation.

Before either procedure is done it is necessary to be sure that the rest of the circulation to the brain is O.K. There are four main arteries that send blood to the brain, two in the front of the neck (right and left side) and two along the spine. These all connect together in a ring under the brain. Thus if the blood flowing through some of the other arteries is sufficient, disease in one artery may not cause trouble.

If there is a lot of blockage in the arteries within the brain itself then correcting a blockage downstream in the neck will not help much. I wish I could give you a hopeful answer but the truth is that life sometimes gives us hard choices and you have one. Your best help in facing such a decision is your doctor.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Perhaps some of your readers who have cut down on their use of eggs because of high cholesterol content would be interested in the following way of preparing just the egg whites.

Break two egg whites into a rinsed saucer (rinsed so that they will slide neatly off) then spray a skillet with a nonfat, no-stick coating. Heat the skillet somewhat. Slip in the egg whites, salt to taste and sprinkle with artificial bacon bits. Turn off the heat and cover the pan to allow the whites to set until firm. The result is as tasty as breakfast eggs in any other form but low in calories and cholesterol free. What to do with the yolks? Do a little organic gardening with them and either spade them in around your roses or put them into your compost pile.

Dear Reader — Thank you for your helpful suggestion. Egg whites are a good source of protein, free of fat and cholesterol. I can't find a thing wrong with your suggestion, even the organic gardening bit.

Long Shaping a Welfare Reform Substitute Plan

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long says he is shaping a welfare work-requirement plan which the Finance Committee is expected to substitute for President Nixon's welfare-reform program.

The Louisiana Democrat, the committee chairman, said its members are crystalizing their ideas on the substitute after lengthy consideration of the issue.

"I think that we will have about six good ways that we can increase the income of people who ought to be working to help improve their own conditions," he said today in an interview for broadcast in Louisiana.

"We will provide job oppor-

Let's Reflect
A lie has always a certain amount of weight with those who wish to believe it. — E. W. Rice said it.

Personal Mention

Word has been received from a relative, that Mrs. Chesterine Lewis is now residing in the Kilgore Nursing Home in Camden. According to this relative, she is no better, but is receiving good attention.

Friends wishing to contact her may write her at the Nursing Home, Room 10; or to 402 Madison Avenue, Camden. The family solicits prayers of friends.

Mrs. Mary Jamison who lives on the Patmos road, celebrated her 91st birthday Monday, March 20, 1972 (today).

Obituary

Paul Witherspoon, a native of Hempstead County, passed away in a local nursing home March 16, 1972.

He is survived by one brother, Bobbie Witherspoon of Hope; one nephew, James Charles Witherspoon of Chicago; five nieces, Mrs. Ruth Buford and Mrs. Bessie Turner of Chicago, Mrs. Cardell Casby of Montgomery, Alabama, Mrs. Patsy Moore of San Diego, and Mrs. Annie Belle Yerger of Hope.

Funeral services were held at the Mt. Zion C. M. E. Church Monday, March 20, at 2:00 p.m. (today). Burial was in Cave Hill Cemetery under the direction of Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

Raleigh Rucks, father of Mrs. Ella Robinson of 519 East Hayward Street, passed away March 17, 1972. He was a Baptist.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, March 21, at 2:00 p.m. at the Loneke Baptist Church. Hicks Funeral Home, Inc. is in charge of arrangements.

tunities for them; we will provide tax advantages for them if they will take the job; we will provide tax incentives for people who will hire them; we will provide training opportunities," Long said.

The committee, which began its executive sessions on the big Social Security-welfare-reform bill more than a month ago, is nearing the time when it will take up the welfare provisions.

The key provisions of the President's proposal are a $2,400 guaranteed minimum income for a family of four, and coverage—for the first time—of the working poor.

Long said he still considers the Nixon plan "a bum idea."

It was learned that the committee, if it adopts Long's substitute, as seems certain, will knock out both of these features.

Final details have not been worked out, but the substitute probably will contain provisions giving welfare recipients considerably more income if they work than if they do not. They would get more for taking a job in private industry than in government.

In addition, the substitute would keep administration of welfare in the states. The Nixon plan, as approved by the House, would centralize it in Washington.

Fire Destroys Newspaper

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — A fire which authorities believe was deliberately set destroyed the $1 million Deland Sun News plant and separate fires damaged three other business early Sunday.

All that was left of the daily newspaper office was two badly charred walls. Presses, wire machines and other heavy equipment were fused into a twisted mass of melted metal.

Publisher Morgan Welch said he could see no special reason why his business was hit first.

"It's just that we're a large institution in the middle of downtown," he said. "But, it did wipe us out with a replacement value of over $1 million."

Welch said the presses nevertheless would run today, continuing the paper's 50-year history.

From temporary headquarters in a vacant building across the street from the gutted plant the Sun News will be sent to Sanford Herald plant about 20 miles away for publication.

The second fire broke out about 3 a.m. at the Gulf Life Insurance office where, a spokesman said gasoline was used as a fuel. Twenty minutes later a blaze was reported at Mitchell's Cleaners, where paper was heaped on the floor to fuel the flames.

A fourth fire broke out a short time later at the closed and condemned Deland Hotel, where pillows and mattresses were set ablaze, a fire department spokesman said.

Canada has 63 farm publications.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Swallows Return

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP) — Once again the Feast Day of St. Joseph has come. Once again swallows are visible at Mission San Juan Capistrano.

Not all the graceful little birds really arrived Sunday on the feast day as tradition, and mission spokesmen, have it.

"I'd say about 15 per cent of them come in early, but most of them wait until the Feast Day of St. Joseph (March 19)," a mission spokesman said.

Congress Has Time on Hands

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Six years after putting clocks ahead on a uniform basis from April through October, Congress has time on its hands again.

The question before the House today was what to do about the dozen states split by time-zone boundaries.

The decision involves the so-called Indiana amendment to the 1966 Uniform Time Act. The amendment would grant a new exemption option to the states that straddle time boundaries. Alaska is in four time zones; Indiana, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Oregon and Montana are in two zones apiece.

The problem is especially complex in Indiana where the federal government went to court to challenge a city's time-tinkering.

The law provides for Daylight

Saving Time between the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in October. It allows an exemption from DST only if the state legislature provides that the entire state and all its subdivisions observe the applicable standard time.

If statewide exemption is adopted, "the exempt western part will remain one hour out of time with the eastern part of the state, two hours out of time with other states to the east and one hour out of time with western neighbors who are usually on the same time," Commerce Committee Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., said in a report.

The proposed amendment would let any state divided by a time-zone boundary exempt the portion in one time zone from DST without exempting the other portion. That could put a state under one time zone. It would not change the exemption option for nonsplit states.

The Senate passed a similar amendment last year, but the bill was sidetracked in the House.
